TRAINING

CONSULTANTS

Sasalethu as the raining institution had previously worked with government departments facilitating trainings for various NPOs. Our strength on this subject there ore is our experience. Through the course/training evaluations our company usually conduct after each training, participants showed that it would be convenient to formulate language-sensitive and detailed manual for long-term usage and we have found this to be true for the training of Occupational Health and Safety.

Our trained facilitators have gathered enough data on the field to contextualize the theoretical information with the realities in our society. It will be much simple to then create the informed manual that will speak not only to the existing experiences of businesses but also We have the proven record of experience of facilitating the above trainings within public and private entities, NPOs and Faith-based Organisations within South Africa

FOREWORD

“As Sasaletu Environmental Consulting Division we are proud to be associated with such rife experience and passion”

Professor Leon Hugo is the driving force of the Sasaletu Environmental Consulting Division. He has vast environmental training experience and has been teaching ecology and environmental management for 40 years, which makes him a very valued partner to Sasaletu. Some of his achievements include:

- Planned in excess of 150 hiking trails in SA and abroad
- Developed and manage the Green Flag Accreditation system for hiking trails.
- Contracted by government of Nepal to Green Flag audit trails in the Himalayas..
- Author and distributor of the book: Environmental Management:
- An Ecological guide to sustainable living in SA (prescribed at 10 educational institutions inSA).
- Co-manage www,econatics.co.za - the weekly updated website for environmental issues as supplement to the textbook: Environmental management.

We provide personalised environmental training services to all public and private entities. We typically communicate, analyse, recommend and implement the right, cost effective solution.
